

Decorating Your Wedding Venue

When you start to design your wedding, the most important thing to consider first is your wedding venue. This is where your wedding will take place and everything else such as your wedding catering and your music will have to take place here as well. This will set the mood, dictate how many people can attend, how you arrange the seating and more. There are many aspects of your wedding venues to consider from the size, to the lighting to the cost ? but perhaps most important of all is considering the appearance of the wedding venues and what they will look like when you have decorated them.

Decorating your wedding venues is crucial if you want to give your wedding your own personal slant and make sure that it is perfectly suited to the occasion. If you leave the venue as it is then it will look beautiful (presuming the wedding venue you selected is beautiful) and it will be fit for purpose (presuming it is intended as a wedding venue), but at the same time if you don't decorate it then it won't be particularly individual or personal and it won't have that element of style that can serve to make your wedding unique and perfect. So how do you go about making your wedding venue perfect, and how do you go about choosing the perfect decorations for your wedding?

The first thing to do is to choose the wedding venue well, and with an idea for what you want it to look like in mind already. If you have a theme in mind then consider what you want that to be and then imagine how you could decorate the wedding venue to fit your concept. If you have a wedding planner then allowing them to look around the wedding venue is a good idea and they can help you come up with ideas. Another thing to do is to look at bridal shops, as well as at online pictures of weddings. Generally this can help you to get some good ideas and to see how others decorate their weddings.

You also need to get the measurements of the wedding venue and to ask what is available. There will likely be tables and chairs already there, but you may wish to use your own, or to have some removed. This will depend on the number of visitors you intend to invite, and it will also depend on the seating plan and on other elements. Think about where you will stand the cake, where people will get their food from if it's a buffet, and whether you need space for dancing in the same room where people are going to be eating (or whether you are having your wedding reception at a separate location).

Bear in mind that it's important to decorate your wedding venue evenly and consistently. You must ensure that it doesn't look sparse or barren, and that makes it crucial to get enough wedding decorations to cover the wedding venue.
